REPORT OF THE GENERAL COUNCIL

For the Year ending 31st December, 1901.

STEADY and continuous progress marks once again the result of the past year's work, and proves the Fund itself to be receiving more and more the confidence of the charitable public, as its methods of visiting and distribution commend themselves to the hospital workers of London.

The General Council view with great satisfaction the honour graciously bestowed on the Fund by its Founder and Patron, His Majesty the King, who was pleased to command that the Fund should, as from January 1, 1902, be known henceforth as King Edward's Hospital Fund for London.

They also venture to express to the President, His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, their loyal welcome on his return home and on his succession to the office of President.

The Council record with deep regret their loss during the year of the most valuable services of the late Dr. Creighton, Bishop of London, and Sir William MacCormac; the former an active member of the Executive, the latter of the Visiting Committee.

Considering the many demands made on the public in consequence of the protraction of the war, it is a matter of great gratification to the Council that the total receipts for the year have again shown an increase over those of last year.

The receipts are exclusive of the amounts collected by the Coronation Gift Committee, who were appointed in the autumn of last year, as it was considered that the approaching Coronation was a suitable occasion on which to make an effort to complete the scheme of the Royal Founder, and to present to His Majesty the King, as a Coronation Gift, the means of freeing the London Hospitals. The accounts of this Committee, of which Lord Duncannon is chairman, will be published on the completion of their work, and included in the Report of the Fund next year.

The Council are pleased to report the increasing success of the League of Mercy, who have this year contributed £7,000, being an increase of £1,000 on last year's contribution.

Excluding the initial start in the Jubilee year, the total receipts of the Fund are :—

For 1898	£39,272
„ 1899	48,536
„ 1900	51,549
„ 1901	53,188

The sum distributed is £1,000 more than last year.

The Expenditure for the year has been £1,715. 8s. 10d., or less than 3¼ per cent. on the amount collected.

The Accounts, which include tables of receipts and payments, and also a list of legacies received, have been audited as usual by Messrs. Deloitte, Dever, Griffiths & Co., the Honorary Auditors.

The Visiting Committee consisted of the following gentlemen :—

Every Hospital was visited and reported on by two members of the above Committee, one of the two being in each case a member of the medical profession. The work of the Visitors has again proved most valuable, and the thanks of His Royal Highness, the President, have been conveyed to them. Being assured that much of the success of the Fund is due to the work of the Visitors, who have hitherto found their duties somewhat onerous, the Council have increased their number. Their reports were of the greatest value to the Distribution Committee, which met frequently under the chairmanship of Lord Lister.

With the exception of the £1,000 entrusted to the Fund by the London Parochial Charities for distribution among Convalescent Homes, the grants have been confined to Hospitals, in accordance with the original constitution, and it has still been deemed necessary to restrict the operations of the Fund to institutions situated within the seven-miles radius of Charing Cross.

Enquiries made from all the Hospitals receiving grants from the Fund, which are within the seven-miles radius of Charing Cross, show that 23 per cent. of the patients come from outside the area. The Council therefore feel that they may in all justice appeal for support to the residents of districts beyond this limit, in the confident hope that such an appeal will not be made in vain.

Subscribers will note that there has been no trenching on the ground covered by the Hospital Sunday and Saturday Funds.

On the recommendations of the Visitors, the original policy of the Fund has been further developed by giving, where possible, more grants for specified objects. This has led directly to the re-opening of 34 beds in the year under review, making a total of 321 reopened by the aid of this Fund. A further consequence has been the carrying out in various Hospitals of many much-needed alterations and additions.

It having been considered desirable to distribute the funds where gifts are most needed or some particular object is to be accomplished, the withholding of a grant from a particular Hospital, or the grant of a comparatively small sum, does not necessarily imply want of appreciation of the institution or its work, although in some instances such is the case. The needs or merits of any institution must necessarily have relation to possibly greater needs or merits of other hospitals, as well as to the amount of funds available for distribution.

The Trustees of the Frank James Memorial Home have offered to the Fund the gift of a Home at Cowes, supplemented by a most generous endowment by Mr. Arthur and Mr. William James of £10,000 to be allocated to a London hospital as a Convalescent Home. It is a matter of great regret to the Council that no Hospital should have yet been found willing to incur the liabilities attendant on the acceptance of this offer, and they trust that means may yet be found to make use of this most generous gift.

The Council desire to place on record their high sense of the valuable services rendered to the Fund from its foundation by the Honorary Secretaries, Sir Savile Crossley and Mr. J. G. Craggs.

In conclusion, the thanks of all connected with the Fund are due to the Press for their constant and invaluable support, which has contributed so largely towards the progress of this scheme for the relief of the London Hospitals.

Report of the Hospitals Distribution Committee.

The Visiting Committee have visited and reported on eighty-five Hospitals, and the Distribution Committee recommend awards to seventy-nine.

Of the six left out, one is an excellent institution not in need of assistance this year ; the other five require either reconstruction or rebuilding, and the Committee hope that they will put themselves in such a position that their claims may be able to be more favourably considered next year.

Besides these institutions which have been visited, there were several others which applied too late or which were outside the area laid down by the Executive Committee of the Fund as being beyond the distance of seven miles from Charing Cross.

The Committee recommend this year the re-opening of thirty-four beds now closed for want of funds, making a total of 321 beds re-opened and maintained by this Fund since its commencement in 1897.

In the institutions which have still got closed beds there are many instances where the wards returned as closed are either used for paying patients or for nurses' accommodation, and some Hospitals are so deeply in debt to their tradesmen and bankers that, even if they had further help from the Fund, it is questionable whether it would be desirable for them to incur more liabilities.

The Committee could have employed another £10,000 this year in the re-opening of closed beds had the requisite money been at their disposal.

The numbers of beds re-opened in the different years are as follows :—

[illegible]

Total . 321

It is, however, only right to state that in two cases, although extra beds were re-opened by means of this Fund, the Committees of the Hospitals were subsequently obliged to close others; but they stated in each instance that, had they not received the assistance of this Fund, they would have been compelled to close still more beds, so that the grants of the Fund have been to some extent at least used for the purpose for which they were given.

In continuing the grants for the re-opening of beds in the future, it may be well that it should be clearly stated in every case:—‘provided that the beds at the disposal of the sick poor in your Hospital are maintained at the number contemplated when the grant was made.’

The Committee feel that they cannot say too much for the services of the Visitors and the very great good which their visits have produced; and the correspondence with the Hospitals shows that the suggestions of the Visitors have been met generally in a most friendly spirit and appreciated by the various institutions.

Last year the attention of the Committee was directed to the objections, hygienic and general, which apply to a requirement enforced by some Hospitals whereby the in-patients have to provide certain articles for themselves. These articles include the supply of tea, sugar and butter, changes of personal linen, washing, &c.

In cases in which the Hospitals have seen their way to abolish these requirements in return for the comparatively small extra grants given by this Fund, the Committee have again recommended such grants to be given; but in view of the fact that very great objection has been raised in certain of the larger Hospitals to the abolition of these requirements, further steps in this direction have not been recommended at present.

It is very gratifying to find that, in spite of the many claims on the charity of the public occasioned by the war, the Fund should throughout the present year have shown a marked improvement, so that the Committee feel justified in recommending the addition of £1,000 to the amount distributed last year; and they trust that the work of the next year will go far towards the complete realisation of the hopes of the Royal President that the Fund will be able to raise £100,000 annually for the benefit of the London Hospitals.

The details as regards recommendations are added.
